Re: Copy of: RE: Code Proposal

Felipe,

Thanks for the recognition. I always thought the entire project was important and the piece I was involved in worth the time. When the process kept stopping I just took a leadership role. When the small group SEEPP/E turns over a final product, to you?, I would like to suggest some small recognition for them if possible. I think it would make them feel good since we did work on this not knowing if the group/project was still going on.

Was the group for certification ever started? I volunteered with Mario but never heard any start date. What is the status of the entire project? I have learned that on a project like this I think we need a Bulletin Board to view all the conditions and status.

Thanks again.

Ed
