X-Sender: dl1@ash.ukc.ac.uk
X-Subliminal-Message: I wasn't always a mail header, you know.
Date:          Wed, 21 Oct 1998 09:46:17 +0100
Reply-To: Professional Competence Standards Task Force
                <PRFCMP-L@UTKVM1.UTK.EDU>
Sender: Professional Competence Standards Task Force
                <PRFCMP-L@UTKVM1.UTK.EDU>
From: Duncan Langford <D.Langford@UKC.AC.UK>
Subject:        Re: THE CODE version 5.1 is a winner
To: Multiple recipients of list PRFCMP-L <PRFCMP-L@UTKVM1.UTK.EDU>

At 4:11 -0400 on 20/10/98, MANNY NORMAN <NORMAN_MANNY@ONLINE.EMICH.EDU> wrote :

>          This is great news.  Thank you Don for all the hard work and > encouragement.

Hear, hear.... hard taskmaster as he undoubtedly was, Don nursed this project to success against considerable odds, and thoroughly deserves congratulations from us (and everyone else!)

Congratulations, Don!

- duncan

---------------------------------------------------------------------------
Dr Duncan Langford  Computing Laboratory, University of Kent at Canterbury, UK
        'Practical Computer Ethics'- now available from McGraw-Hill
     'Business Computer Ethics' - available from Addison-Wesley in 1999
---------------------------------------------------------------------------